BLOOD DONORS crowded the Elks home in Harrisburg Tuesday from noon until evening as residents of the city and surrounding areas responded to give the amount of blood necessary to keep Saline county in the Red Cross Blood Program. At left is a part of the large crowd in the waiting room at 1:15 p. m. waiting to be registered, center shows a small portion of the room where the blood was actually accepted, where more than a dozen beds were constantly in use as the donors continued in a steady stream for hours; at right two Junior high school girls—Sara Jo Cotton and Ruth Ann Bramlet—baby sit with Susie Gaskins while her mother, Mrs. Bob Gaskins, was giving blood. The Junior high school volunteers baby sitting service and the girls, working in pairs, were busy throughout the afternoon. Below are six women who "went thru the phone book" Tuesday morning, reminding everyone of the importance of being a blood donor. "Sitting, from the left, Louise Walker, Helen Hill, Margaret Ann Golish, Leta Reinhardt and Trudy Wilson and standing, Connie Ford. The battery of telephones were connected just specially for the blood program in a cooperative effort by the General Telephone company and the Harrisburg Rotary club. The tremendous success of the blood program was the result of many, many people working many, many hours to get over the importance of the program to Saline county. But the work would have been in vain but for the wonderful response by the donors. (Daily Register Staff Photos)

Vanguard Again Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy's jinxed Vanguard rocket et finally struggled into the sky early today but it faltered and broke in two after a one-minute flight and had to be destroyed.

The new Navy failure sent several million dollars worth of cin dars tumbling into the Atlantic. It left the freshly launched Army Explorer riding alone among the stars with the second Russian Sputnik.

There was no indication when the Navy might try again to get a vest-pocket satellite into orbit aboard the Vanguard. Another rocket is ready. But the study of what happened to today's will undoubtedly delay it.

Still hopeful, a Navy spokesman in Washington said: "We've got more to do. We're learning all the time."

It was estimated that the rocket, believed to be carrying a simple form of life in its satellite, rose to between 10,000 and 20,000 feet, less than four miles, before it mingling in the sky, broke into two fiery pieces and began falling back to earth.

Dr. John Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, exclaimed "Oh, no!" when informed in Washington of the sputtering flight. It was the second actual launching failure of the full rocket assembly.

The Vanguard rose laboriously almost enveloped in its ground exhaust and climbed very slowly into the clear but almost freezing Florida pre-dawn. It seemed to hang for a moment at a modest altitude, broke into two fiery parts and was blasted to bits.

Sources here said it would be impossible to determine what actually happened until telemetry information is studied on the brief flight. This might not be before another day or so, they said.

However, it was believed that the missile broke in two at the joint of the first and second stages well short of the time they were supposed to have separated in the rocket's normal course toward an orbit.

Eisenhower Says Tax Cut Might Be Reserve Weapon for Economy

President Speaks Hoarsely Because Of Cold, Sore Throat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that a tax cut might be an administration reserve weapon if an upturn in the economy fails to develop.

The President, speaking hoarsely and showing the results of a cold and sore throat, said, however, that he still expects an economic upturn about the middle of the year, or possibly just a bit later.

Under questioning, he added that a tax cut could be a reserve weapon if the economic bounce-back does not take place as expected.

This was the President's second news conference since late October. He opened today's conference by asking reporters to make their questions long, so he could answer with either a yes or no and thus save his ailing vocal chords.

The President said that aside from his hoarseness, he felt well and had no other symptoms of illness. The White House had reported Tuesday that he had a "slight cold and a sore throat."

McElroy Controls Program

Other highlights of today's presidential news conference. —He agreed that government scientists are mapping a general rough program which might involve sending an American rocket to the moon within 10 years. But he said this was not the primary objective of the government at the moment and that the program must be consciously adjusted to the defense needs of the country.

—He said that all outer space development was under the control of Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy. This was in reply to a question whether he might instruct the Air Force to get into the outer space program along with the Army in wake of two Navy failures with the Vanguard rocket.

—He threw cold water on the

Mears Pleads Guilty to Murder Charge

Ray Mears is scheduled to be sentenced next Tuesday in Gallatin county circuit court for the shotgun slaying of Vincent York at New Haven July 19.

Mears, of New Haven, entered a plea of guilty to a murder charge before Judge Roy Gulley at Shawneetown Tuesday.

His brothers, Hallas and Robert Mears, were indicted with Ray by a grand jury in September and charges probably will be dropped against them following the sentencing of Ray. Evidence at the inquest indicated that Ray was the one who fired the shotgun.

Four jurors for the scheduled trial had been accepted for the trial, after a day and a half had been consumed in examining 52 persons.

York, 74-year-old man who lived alone, was fatally shot about 5 p. m. July 19 while sitting on his front porch peeling potatoes. He died en route to a hospital.

The Mears brothers are represented by Atty. D. F. Rumsey and Atty. Trafton Dennis of Harrisburg.

Council Changes Meeting Time To Accommodate Industrial Court

Will Meet 6 p. m. On the First And Third Tuesdays

The Harrisburg city council yesterday voted to change its hour of meeting to accommodate the industrial court that holds sessions in the city hall on certain Tuesdays.

The council meetings are set by ordinance for Tuesdays, and a time change was voted which calls for meetings at 6 p. m. the first and third Tuesdays instead of at 1 p. m. on those days, as has been the case in the past.

All council members said they had been approached on the subject of the industrial court. The court, it was learned, has not had adequate facilities in the city building and if they could not be improved, there was a good chance the court would be moved to another city.

The council will let the court use the council rooms during the day to keep the court in Harrisburg.

Asks Pipe to New Homes Site

It was pointed out that the court brings a number of out-of-town persons to Harrisburg and that it is a definite convenience for Saline county persons who have business in the court.

H. E. Mitchell Jr. appeared before the council and asked for consideration of furnishing 2,000 feet of four-inch pipe to run from Gaskins City to near a site close to the country club where ten new houses will be constructed.

Mr. Mitchell said that he and Dr. John E. Choiser had bought ten acres of the wooded area a short distance west of the country club from the Gray estate and planned to start building when the weather breaks. He said besides 11 houses that would be water users when the construction is finished, the Harrisburg Golf Association also would use considerable water.

He also pointed to a direct payroll of $1,000 to $1,500 a week during the time the ten houses are being constructed as an economy factor to be considered.

The council voted to consider the proposal.

Program Arranged for Saline Fair July 13 Through July 19

The annual Saline County Fair will be held earlier than usual this year—from July 13 through 19.

There will be eight program sessions during the week, as follows: Sunday night—Jack Kochman's Hell Drivers.

Monday night — Saline County Beauty Contest.

Tuesday night — Running races. Wednesday night—Country music.

Thursday afternoon — Running races.

Thursday night — McKinley's rodeo, featuring bronco busting, bareback riding, roping and other events found in a rodeo.

Friday night — Running races. Saturday night—Running races.

The running races will include two $500 purses for two-year-old horses, donated by the running horse association. Tied in with these races is a $6,000 stake race at Cahokia Downs. To be eligible, a two-year-old must have run in at least two of 12 selected Illinois county fairs, of which the Saline county fair is one. There will be special entertainment during races, also.

The carnival will be the L. J. Heth Shows, which were at the Du Quoin state fair the past year. The local fair date was moved up in order to secure this carnival.

The programming was arranged during the meeting of the Illinois State Fair association, held at Springfield Sunday through Wednesday a week ago and attended by the following local directors: Victor Mitchell, Robert Mudge, John W. "Buddy" Pool and Atty. L. M. Hancock.

The fair association has started selling in advance box seats for the fair at special prices. The box of six seats will sell for $30 for the entire eight sessions and in addition admission tickets to the fairgrounds will be included. This means that a purchaser is getting $72 worth of tickets for $30.

At a certain date, yet to be chosen, there will be a drawing for boxes, so that everybody will get a chance at the choicest seats. The best boxes in the grandstand will be drawn for, it was explained.

The boxes are now on sale by fair association directors.

318 Pints of Blood Donated Tuesday at Bloodmobile; Unable To Take From 80

Will Give Later as Response Too Large to Handle; Praise Co-operation

Harrisburg community went over the top yesterday when the Bloodmobile visited this city.

The Red Cross announced that 318 pints of blood were taken at the Harrisburg Elks lodge building, where the Bloodmobile headquarters.

The response was greater than that. There were 84 rejects and 80 persons were turned away because of the crowd on hand. Students visited the Bloodmobile during its afternoon stay in Harrisburg.

Today the Bloodmobile was at the Education building of the First Methodist church in Eldorado.

The Harrisburg quota yesterday was 175 pints and persons connected with the Bloodmobile today were still singing praises of the co-operation shown by the public which brought the 472 responses.

County Still Behind

However, it was pointed out, Saline county is still behind in its quota. Last year the county quota was 1,500 pints and only 461 were collected, and the county is far behind in the amount collected relative to the amount used here by people who had to have it.

Mrs. John Belt, executive secretary of the Saline county chapter of the American Red Cross, praised the co-operation of the public, who responded to the appeals of Mrs. B. E. Montgomery, blood recruitment chairman for Harrisburg and vicinity, and Mrs. Warren Tuttle, chairman of the Service Group, which is responsible for securing volunteers to work at the Bloodmobile and which secured the food and drink served.

"The people who came were wonderful," Mrs. Belt stated. "They were patient in spite of long waits. Although some waited as long as two hours, I heard no gripes or grumbles. Students Help or organizations," she continued, this time individuals took on responsibilities. Everybody seemed to co-operate."

She added that people who have received blood certainly wish to thank those who gave it.

Junior high school students this year had a big part in making the program a success. Students publicized the event, secured donors and acted as baby sitters. Students visited the Bloodmobile during its afternoon stay in Harrisburg.

A number of Harrisburg Township high school students 18 years old and over donated blood, being excused from school to do so.

The Harrisburg Rotary club took care of transportation and Mrs. Charles Ford Jr. recruited a group of women volunteers who called persons, asking them to donate and making appointments, in behalf of

No Rejections by State on Lake Plans, Gidcumb Says

Remarks made by Wayne Gidcumb in yesterday's Rotary club story need clarification because the story was confusing in spots, Mr. Gidcumb stated today.

Mr. Gidcumb said that the proposed lake plans are moving along on schedule.

There have been no rejections by the state on any phase of the proposed project as was stated in yesterday's story.

In fact, the proposal has received commitments from both Gov. Stratton and the Department of Conservation, designed to establish the Rudement project at no cost to the community.

Money has been appropriated to buy land and for engineering. At this date the engineering has been done, core drilling for the dam is now being done, appraisal of 1,800 acres of land has been finished and actual options are scheduled as the next operation.

Elks Lodges Aid Tornado Victims

In response to an appeal by Illinois Elks Association President Eugene W. Schnierle, Elks lodges in Illinois have contributed $3400 to a disaster fund designed to aid victims of the December tornado in Murphysboro and Mt. Vernon, it was announced today by Mr. Schnierle, and contributions continued to come in.

The money will be distributed according to need by the Elks lodges in the two towns, with a portion of the fund already allocated to Murphysboro for emergency relief in that area.

With just slightly over half of the lodges in the association reporting to date, Mr. Schnierle expressed the hope that contributions from the remaining lodges in the state would swell the total over the $5000 mark. "It is indeed heartwarming," Schnierle said, "to see the quick response of Elks lodges over the state to this tragic need of persons who are total strangers to most of the lodges involved. The success of this appeal shows, more powerfully than words can express, the true benevolent spirit of Elksdom in action."

Contributions from the individual lodges ranged from $15 to $500.

Inquest Thursday in Fatal Shooting

Burton Surrenders at Paducah

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Gunman Carl Burton, 24, wanted for kidnapping a Missouri state trooper surrendered meekly to authorities here Tuesday night and said he was glad "it's all over."

Burton, his hands held over his head, walked into police headquarters Tuesday night and told authorities "Here I am. I give up." Later, he added, "I'm glad it's all over."

The gunman was arraigned immediately after his surrender before U. S. Commissioner Herbert Melton Jr. and was charged with violating federal kidnapping laws and transporting a stolen car across state lines. He was bound over to the Federal Grand Jury on a $35,000 bond. Melton said that he would seek life imprisonment for Burton.

The kidnapping charges stemmed from the abduction by Burton and his partner, Harold W. Davis of Missouri state trooper William Little last Saturday. Burton and Davis released Little unharmed in Melber, Ky., 25 miles from here, on Saturday. Burton said he had been hiding out in an Illinois railroad roundhouse since Sunday, and walked to Paducah from Melber when he decided to give himself up.

Davis tried to take his own life after a quarrel with Burton. He is in critical condition at a hospital here from the self-inflicted gunshot wound. Burton didn't know until his surrender that his partner was still alive.

An innocent girl, Jewell English, 24, was shot and killed at a police roadblock set up near here to trap Burton Monday when her brother attempted to drive through without stopping.

McCracken County Coroner Jimmy Davis will conduct an inquest into the fatal shooting of the young woman Thursday afternoon.

At issue is the question of whether the victim's fatal wounds came from a shotgun blast fired by Missouri state trooper Vernon Hopkins or from a rifle fired by Forrest McAlister, a Fulton, Ky. insurance salesman who had been stopped at the road block a few minutes before Miss English's car drove up.

Also unsettled is the question of whether either man had the authority to shoot.

Davis said Miss English's death apparently was due to "high caliber missile." He said he found no buckshot in her body.

Keenan Ousted Under Threat of Bodily Eviction

CHICAGO (UP)—Cook County has a new assessor today. The previous tenant quit the office under threat of bodily eviction.

The former tax assessor, Frank Kennan, a Republican, was ousted Tuesday by a 13-0 vote of the County Board. Kennan recently was convicted of income tax evasion, but refused to resign the office on grounds he was the "duly elected assessor."

Shortly after the board acted, the county clerk swore in Democrat John P. McGuane, 62, a wealthy bachelor, as assessor.

Kennan refused to recognize the board's action and returned to his assessor's quarters. McGuane, insisting he had "no quarrel with the man," avoided Kennan's office.

While Kennan sat tight in his office, his former close friend and political ally, State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski, called in reinforcements.

Adamowski sent a letter to the office of Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman to evict the assessor. Kennan agreed under protest to leave when Deputy Sheriff Thomas Smith and County Highway Police Capt. Steve Barrett arrived at his office and warned him they would remove him.

House Passes Humane Slaughter Bill

The Humane Slaughter bill passed the House in Congress yesterday and now goes to the Senate, Congressman Kenneth J. Gray informed Mrs. Tim Turner Harrisburg Humane society president, by telegram. Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota is sponsor of the bill in the Senate.

The American Humane Association is pushing the measure which calls for meat processors who do interstate shipping to render animals insensible with a special, inexpensive device.

Advocates point out that the old-fashioned knocking hammer is still used to kill cattle in most U. S. packing plants, that if the animal goes down with one blow the method could be considered humane. However, it was said sometimes it takes five or six

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bacon Do Double Decorating

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bacon have finished with decorators, painters and rug cleaners once again. Having done extensive remodeling and decorating of their home at 3 West South street during the fall and winter months, Mr. and Mrs. Bacon had just settled down to enjoying it when the furnace exploded Jan. 24 and ruined everything that had been done.

Beige rugs became dark brown, woodwork became smoke smudged and curtains and furniture became hopelessly soiled. Painters, cleaners and decorators were called in again and Tuesday the last of the workmen left the Bacons' to themselves in a renovated household.

Modern Gatling Gun On B58, AF's Fastest Bomber

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—The B58, the Air Force's fastest jet bomber, is armed with a modern version of the Gatling gun that can fire 7,000 rounds a minute from six rotating barrels, it was officially disclosed today.

The B58, officials have indicated flies safely at about 1,500 miles an hour. It can fly faster, but probably would melt from air friction if allowed to. The gun is mounted in the tail of the plane in a special conical turret.

August C. Esenwein, vice president of Convair, which makes the plane at Fort Worth, said engineers faced a melting problem in trying to find a gun that would shoot 7,000 rounds a minute.

They turned to the multi-barreled gun which R. J. Gatling developed in 1861 and which was first used in the Civil War.

"Gatling got pretty close with his gun," Esenwein said. "We just improved the feeding mechanism and substituted a motor for the hand crank."

While one barrel of the Gatling gun on the B58 is firing, another is discharging a used casing and still another is being loaded.

The barrel rotates so fast that it takes "several" degrees of rotation for a shell to clear the length of the barrel.

blows to fell a frightened animal.

Many packers who have voluntarily inaugurated the humane method have stated they are saving money because of lack of bruised meat when this method is used.

LAST STOP in the blood-giving program is the refreshment table. Following the donation of a pint of blood to the Bloodmobile, donors were escorted to tables in the Elks club dining room for sandwiches, cookies, coffee and soft drinks. Grey Ladies, volunteer women workers, were kept busy serving the large number of blood donors Tuesday from Harrisburg and vicinity. Like all other facilities for the program, the dining room was busy from shortly after noon until past 7 p. m. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Let's talk turkey...about:

"la chemise"

We have been hearing a chorus of laments from ladies wistfully eyeing this exciting new fashion.

Well, by now we have seen it on a variety of shapes and sizes, and have come to the following conclusions:

The chemise is not a 'sack'... It does fit; through the shoulder and bust, and again at the hip.

The hip is minimized... Because the waist is not defined, the hip is not exaggerated.

It's slenderizing... A well-known optical illusion; the slimmest line between two points is the straight line.

It suggests the waist... Every movement creates a fold that subtly indicates a perfectly proportioned you beneath.

There is seemingly no end to the versatility of fit in the chemise. We suggest you come in and try it on... that's the only way you'll ever know what the chemise can do for you!

Your Income Tax Interest, Carrying Charges

H. J. White, Director of the Internal Revenue Service for this district today explained the rules for deducting interest payments on personal debts on individual income tax returns for 1957.

If you itemize deductions on page 2 of Form 1040, you can deduct interest you paid on your personal debts, such as bank loans and home mortgages. You cannot deduct interest paid on money borrowed to buy tax-exempt securities or single-premium life insurance, nor interest paid on behalf of another person unless you were legally liable to pay it.

You can deduct a portion of so-called "carrying charges" paid on installment purchases of personal property such as automobiles, television sets, etc. where the interest charges are not separately stated. The deduction allowed is six percent of the average unpaid monthly balance on the installment purchase. You compute the average unpaid monthly balance by adding up the unpaid balance at the beginning of each month and dividing the total by 12. For example, assume that on July 15, 1957 you bought a television set for $254 plus a carrying charge of $20. Assume you paid $50 down and are paying the balance (starting August 10th) at the rate of $14 per month. The portion of the carrying charge deductible as interest for 1957 is computed as follows:

Unpaid balance including carrying charge:
August 1 ($254 plus $20 minus $50) $224.00

September 1	210.00
October 1	196.00
November 1	182.00
December 1	168.00
Total monthly unpaid balance	$980.00
Average monthly unpaid balance ($980 divided by 12)	$81.67
Interest deduction (6 per cent of $81.67)	$ 4.90

Sometimes money is borrowed on a discount basis. That is, the interest is subtracted in advance and you sign a note for a larger amount than you receive. If you report on the cash basis on your tax return, you may deduct this discount as interest only at the time you pay the note. For example, assume that you sign a note for $1,000 but receive only $960. You agree to pay the $1,000 in 10 monthly installments. For income tax purposes, one-tenth of the $40 discount or $4 will be considered paid each time you make a payment on the note. Thus, if you made three payments on the note during 1957, your interest deduction would be $12 (3 x $4).

Mr. White advised taxpayers who have questions regarding the deduction of interest or any other matter on their Federal income tax return for 1957 to telephone or visit the local office of the Internal Revenue Service. The local office may be reached by telephone at CL 3-7993. The address of the local office is 111½ North Main Street, Harrisburg.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Children sometimes try to find the answers to arithmetic problems by looking in the back of the book. They work their problems backwards. The good student learns the process or the method before he starts the problem. After he has applied the rules and the steps involved he checks his answer.

Many of us try to find the right answers to social, economic and intellectual problems by looking for conclusions rather than by following step-by-step procedures. We seek short cuts to achieve our goals without doing the required work.

We sometimes try to short cut our spiritual paths toward God. We try to appear as Christians without getting rid of our secret sins. We try to appear loving while harboring hatred in our minds. We cannot find the right answers without working our way through the whole process of salvation and Christian living.

Castle Rules on Teachers' Sick Leave Deductions

SPRINGFIELD — Atty. Gen. Latham Castle has ruled that deductions from the salaries of school teachers for absences over and above their 10 days yearly sick leave must be made on an annual, rather than a monthly, basis.

Castle said Monday in an opinion for the superintendent of public instruction that such deductions should be "computed on the basis that the number of days absent bears to the total number of days in the school year" of the district involved.

"The amount deducted should be that portion of the rate for the school year" which results from the division of the number of days absent by the number of days in the school year," Castle held.

The ruling applied to full-time

Former Shelton Gang Member to Face Charges

SPRINGFIELD — State officials today reported Max P. Pulliam, 59, a reputed member of the old Shelton gang in southern Illinois, will be returned here from Reno, Nev., to face parole violation charges.

Reno authorities said Pulliam, formerly of Benton, Ill., who allegedly jumped parole here in 1945, turned himself in at the sheriff's office there and said he was "tired of running." State authorities here said an agent would be dispatched shortly to return Pulliam to Illinois.

Pulliam was sentenced to a one-year life term at Menard Prison in 1931 for conviction of burglary in Jackson County. He was paroled in 1945 and took a job at a Springfield laundry. He disappeared a few months later.

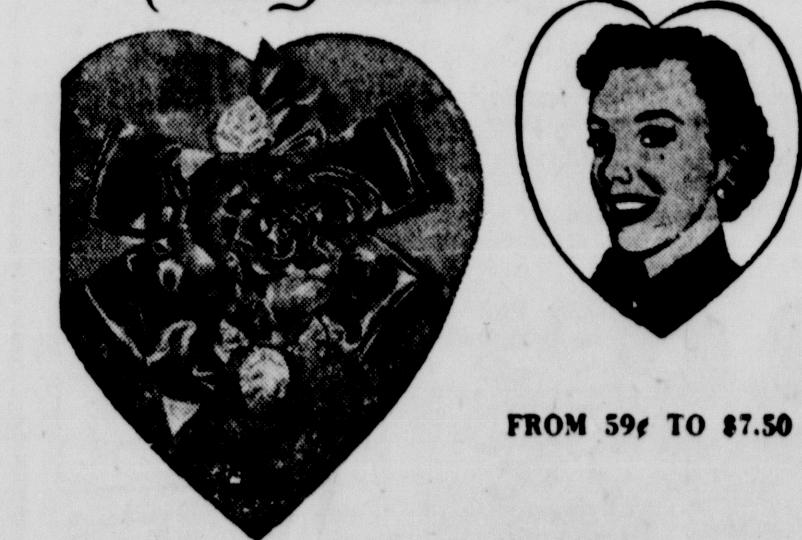

State officials here said Pulliam would be returned to Illinois for a hearing before the state Parole and Pardon Board, which would determine what should be done. Pulliam will be either continued on parole or returned to prison.

Authorities reported Pulliam was active in the famed bootleg wars of the 1920s in southern Illinois, and allegedly was associated with the Shelton gang in Williamson County. He also was reported active in the famed feud between the Shelton and Birge gangs, and on one occasion was ambushed and left for dead.

Atlantic herring is strictly a sea fish, for unlike the other herrings, the shad and alewife, it does not enter fresh water.

teachers. As for temporary teachers, Castle said their deduction should be made on a daily basis or if they are employed on a monthly basis, the deduction should be based on the number of school days in the month.

Florida Shivers As Winter Hits Tourist Industry

By United Press
Florida shivered in one of its coldest winters on record, but forecasters predicted some relief today for the frozen Southeast.

Overnight temperatures again plunged into the 30s as far south as southern Florida, damaging the state's tourist industry, and crops and killing cattle.

A warming trend from the Midwest was expected to reach the Atlantic Coast later today, moderating the three-day cold wave.

The Florida cold wave, third of the season, forced tourists to don furs, freeze tender vegetable crops and blackened cattle ranges. Cattle were reported dying by the hundreds on the ranges.

"This is definitely the worst winter on tourists in Florida on record," Gordon Dunn, chief forecaster of the Miami Weather Bureau said. "And it's one of the worst in citrus, vegetables and cattle."

Miami recorded a low of 36.6 Tuesday to equal a 41-year record, while Tampa's low of 24 was that city's coldest for the date since 1905.

The United Press counted at least 10 deaths attributed to the weather in the last 48 hours, including 2 in Florida, 6 in traffic accidents on rain-slicked roads in southern California, and 2 in a bus-truck crash on an icy highway near Colfax, Calif.

Council Changes Meeting Time and Harrisburg Township high school.

Street Commissioner Sneed Jordan said plans already are in the making to do some street widening on Granger and Sloan at McKinley school but that the area near the high school had not been brought up before.

At this point Mayor Claud Gibbons said he had been giving thought to a project he believed could be accomplished and asked the council to study it.

The mayor suggested that underpasses could be built at the school crossings on West Poplar and at McKinley school. He said this would relieve a patrolman of duty at the crossings and would keep traffic flowing.

Street Project
R. R. Brown, motor fuel tax engineer, told the council the city would not have enough money for the planned 1958 street construction program this year because there would not be a big enough accumulation of motor fuel tax funds.

He said the contract could be let late this year for construction to start early in spring.

The council decided that they would get their resolutions ready to appropriate the money for the project and then let contracts later in the year.

The 1958 project calls for paving Walnut street from Granger west to Land and Land south to Route 13.

19 NYC Cars Derailed Near Mount Carmel

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. — Nineteen cars of a New York Central freight train were derailed at 12:45 a. m. Tuesday near Patton Crossing, four miles north of Mount Carmel.

Police reported no injuries in the accident, but said damage was "heavy." Damage, however, was not estimated in dollars. Cause of the accident was not immediately known.

Rail officials said 240 feet of track were torn up, and of the 19 cars overturned only three were loaded.

Wreck crews from Harrisburg, Ill., and Washington, Ind., were sent to the scene and were clearing the area of debris.

Ray Lawrence was engineer of the northbound train, with J. E. Storekman as conductor.

Official Visit of Lt. Governor At Kiwanis Club

Roy Cornagie of Herrin, lieutenant governor of Kiwanis Division 16, paid an official visit to the Harrisburg Kiwanis club Tuesday night at the Masonic temple and outlined the objectives of the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District.

They are: 1—Regular achievement reports; 2—Increased membership of four members per club; 3—Five new clubs; 4—Five new Key clubs; 5—Two new Circle K clubs; 6—At least 2500 Kiwanians and families to attend the International convention this summer; 7—Sponsor an effective safety program; 8—Combat communism; 9—Active participation in all International Kiwanis programs.

Cornagie also announced the Division's Spring fellowship will be held at Vienna on April 10, and urged the Harrisburg club to sponsor the annual Kiwanis Divisional Sports day to be held in June.

The lieutenant governor praised the Harrisburg club as one of the finest in the division and stated 1957 was one of the most progressive years in the district and division.

President Robert Rushing announced the annual chili supper of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club will be held on Feb. 27.

possibility of a summit meeting with Russia, saying this government has not received any evidence from Moscow that such a meeting would result in any desirable form of agreement.

He questioned the idea of establishing a demilitarized zone in Western Europe, as the Russians have suggested, on the theory that the United States could not enter into any unilateral agreement which would affect the basic rights of the free nations involved.

Praise for Stassen
—He said that any public statements made by his chief assistant, Sherman Adams, were made only with his approval and that Adams had said nothing inconsistent with the general policy of the administration. He apparently felt some emotions as he discussed Adams because he called the former governor of New Hampshire first a general and then referred to him as Secretary Adams.

—He planned to confer this week with his disarmament adviser, Harold E. Stassen, about Stassen's leaving the government to run for governor of Pennsylvania. He described Stassen as a great administrator.

Rotary. The General Telephone Co. Harrisburg office arranged five telephones at Wesley Center for this work to be carried on and telephones were installed at Eldorado today for this same type of work there.

Mrs. Tuttle today pointed to the co-operation of county businesses in donating food, drinks and other items to the operation. She said there was no money set up to buy these things and that the donations were indispensable.

She named the following as being faithful donors of needed articles: Pankey's Bakery, Wolf Bottling Co., Harrisburg Dairy, Harrisburg Ice Co., all of Harrisburg; Continental Coffee Co. through Schnierle's cafe of Harrisburg, the Federal Wholesale Co., Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. and the NuWay Mercantile Co. of Eldorado, all donors of food and drink. Henry's Typewriter Co. loaned typewriters and Kresge's loaned dishes for the event.

Filipino Mother Freed in Killing Air Force Mate

FRANKLIN, Pa. (UP) — Mrs. Lydia Dean, who voluntarily spent Tuesday night in jail although acquitted of slaying her Air Force husband, said today she will stay in this country "to be near his grave."

"I want to stay near my husband," she told the United Press. "I'll never forget him. I'll never leave him."

Ending an eight-day trial, a jury of seven men and five women Tuesday found the tiny Filipino mother innocent of the Dec. 7 fatal shooting of T. Sgt. Ronald Dean, 29.

The 22-year-old raven-haired widow decided to spend the night in jail rather than venture in public on her own for the first time in nearly two months.

Pistons' Yardley Scores 52 Points in 118-113 Win; May Top Pettit's Record

By United Press
With a little luck, George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons, the National Basketball Association's top scorer, can become the first player to score 2,000 points in a single season.

The balding, former Stanford University star pumped in 52 points Tuesday night to run his season total to 1,463 in 54 games. If he better his game average of 27.2 by a little more than two points in the remaining 18 games Yardley can reach the 2,000 point circle. And even if he misses that figure, he is almost certain to top the previous season record of 1,849 set by Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks in 1955-56.

Sinking 18 field goals and 16 of 16 free throws Yardley bettered the previous season high of 51 points for a single game held by himself and Pettit.

Despite Yardley's peak performance the Pistons had all they could do to stave off the Syracuse Nationals, whom they finally downed, 118-113, as Adolph Schayes, Yardley's nearest competitor for season scoring honors, managed only 21 points.

In other games, the New York Knickerbockers snapped a four-game losing streak in defeating the St. Louis Hawks, 120-116, in the nightcap of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader before 15,138 fans after the Boston Celtics routed the Cincinnati Royals, 107-87. The Philadelphia Warriors survived a Minneapolis rally to gain a 107-103 win over the Lakers in the preview to the Pistons-Nationals game at the Detroit Olympia.

St. Louis' loss was its ninth in the last 13 games, but Cliff Hagan eased the situation somewhat by canning 41 points, 26 of them in the final period, to set a new NBA single period record. Willie Naulls paced the Knicks with 35 points.

Bob Cousy led the Celtics with 17 points, while Clyde Lovellette scored 20 for the Royals. Paul Arizin, with 32 points, was high scorer in the Philadelphia-Minneapolis game.

At Galatia the home team beat county rival Eldorado, 76-63, Ridgway entertained home folks with an 88-29 victory over Thompsonville and Shawneetown travelled to Mills-Prairie to get a 61-52 verdict.

Eldorado and Galatia played on near even terms the first half, Eldorado leading 9-8 at the quarter and Galatia forging to the front 29-27 by intermission time.

Midway in the third frame Eldorado held a 7-point lead, then Galatia began to move and at the end of the quarter was on top 56-49.

Galatia had four in double figures with Boyett and Hill tying for honors with 18 each, Odle had 16 and Jones 15.

Galatia hit 28 times in 68 tries for 412 and Eldorado had a .393 shooting average on 22 hits in 56 attempts.

The preliminary was won by Eldorado 58-55 in a double overtime. In the sudden death period an Eldorado player was fouled as he scored a fielder, then made the free toss for a 3-point margin.

Ridgway buried Thompsonville 88-29 to gain its 19th victory in 20 starts.

The winners started fast and piled up a 26-8 first quarter lead and went on to hold a scoring advantage in every frame to win with ease.

Suttner, with 22 points, paced Ridgway to the decision, receiving double figure scoring help from Crawford with 11, Sanders 16, Drome 11 and Jones 12.

Ridgway also took the preliminary 67-31.

Shawneetown led at the end of every period in beating Mills-Prairie 61-52.

Four Indians were in double figures in leading Shawneetown to victory. Jim Brazier and Hunsaker had 15 each and Potter and Cox each contributed 10 points.

The preliminary was won by Shawneetown 45-26.

HOW PROFESSIONAL PORK PRODUCERS GET More Pigs Farrowed Per Litter More Pigs Marketed Per Litter

For twenty years thousands of farmers have relied on Staley Pig Mama as "the finest and simplest pig and sow feed for general farmers."

Now, however, the big-volume "hog professionals" are putting Pig Mama down as the first feed in their pig-crop planning—as the gestation feed sows need to build better litters. Fed to sows according to the Staley Professional Pig Plan, Pig Mama can mean (a) more pigs per litter, (b) bigger, healthier pigs with more stamina, faster growth potential, and (c) more pigs MARKETED.

A recent bulletin of the University of Missouri shows that as many as one third of pigs conceived die before farrowing. Meantime, U.S.D.A. statistics show that, while litters farrowed average 8.94 pigs, only 7.02 are marketed—an average loss of 1.92 pigs per litter. Pig Mama, in the sows' ration, goes a long way to correct this, reduce pig losses, increase farmers' income per litter.

Here's the difference Pig Mama can make: According to repeated tests, sows fed a ration of Pig Mama's quality before breeding and through gestation may average one to three more pigs per litter weaned. Pigs weigh up to 3 to 3½ pounds at birth, and wean 40% to 50% heavier than lighter pigs. And these well-fed sows wean up to 85% more of their well-started healthy pigs than poorly-fed sows.

Start this program now. Even if your bred sows have not been on Pig Mama, it's not too late to start them. The second half of gestation is mighty important. Fortify your sows for more pigs. Pig Mama can help them milk heavier and hold up during lactation.

Order Pig Mama from your Staley dealer today.
Get those sows in their best possible condition by farrowing time.

Take This PIG MAMA Step to Start Your PROFESSIONAL Pork Program

Even if you are not on the fully-professional Multiple Farrowing Plan, you can have its benefits for a general-farm hog herd. Follow this daily program:

Feed bred sows and gilts about 3 lbs. daily of Pig Mama with 3 lbs. corn or milo, or 9 to 12 lbs. silage. Control weight by regulating amount of grain or silage. Older sows need a somewhat heavier ration. Sows should be trim, not fat or too thin. Three pounds of Pig Mama daily provides antibiotics, vitamins, growth factors needed for the "extra pigs per litter" you want.

THE STORY: Anne Biglow tells Ward Sebastian she cannot decide to marry him. Her choice is the security of the village of Yreka and a ranch. Indians on the warpath will not make ranch life pleasant, she believes.

XI
Just as they finished with the final animal of the string, Captain Judson Dillon appeared, moving into the ragged area of lantern light. Morning's dank touch silvered his long overcoat with a beaded wetness, and his thin, dark cheeks were drawn and set by its chill. With him were Provo Holt and Yance McCloud.

Sebastian managed to hide his feelings behind an impassive mask. He nodded to Dillon. "I'm ready to pull out, Captain. Where's your escort?" Dillon's manner was stiff, his answer cut.

"It will be here. You'll wait for it. There's considerable loading to be done yet, including Mr. Holt's string. We'll all travel together under the eye of the same escort."

"Captain," protested Sebastian quickly, "that wasn't last night's agreement."

"There was no agreement," Dillon rapped. "You said you would leave at daylight. I said you would leave when I gave the word. Any other impression you may have is pure assumption on your part."

Provo Holt showed a sardonic smile. He was a lithe, smooth-featured man, fair of hair and with pale, cold eyes. Behind the mocking gleam of his glance as it rested on Ward Sebastian lay the naked flame of an unrelenting hatred.

Yance McCloud, lank and dark-faced, hid whatever he felt behind a surly indifference, real or assumed. His lips were still swollen from last night's contact with Sebastian's fist.

Sebastian centered all his attention on Dillon.

"Captain," he said bluntly, "it won't do. Last evening I told you I would travel at daylight. You conceded the point. I've kept my word and I expect you to keep yours. Sam, bring up our horses! We're leaving."

Dillon's black eyes, showed a glitter. "If you persist, Sebastian, you'll force me to take measures."

It was in Sebastian to fence around a point just so long.

"Measures? What kind of measures? I suggest, Captain, that you climb down off those precious shoulder tabs of yours. They may be all of life and the keys to the gates of heaven to you, but to me they don't mean a thing. See that you don't start something you can't stop. Because I'm prepared to ride this thing through, right up to the top, Captain. Where the big brass lives. Then we'll see what they think of this kind of deal. It could be you'll end up minus some of your shine!"

This fiery defiance held Captain Dillon silent for a moment, and in this stillness Provo Holt spoke, mocking, sardonic. "Big talk, Sebastian, big talk!"

Sebastian whirled on him. "Who asked you in on this, you squaw killer?"

Provo Holt had gone very still, his face draining of color. His lips made a pinched line across his teeth, and when he spoke, his words barely seeped through, husky and toneless.

"Sebastian, I've had just about enough of that from you. If you didn't have Lester backing your hand—"

"I can take care of that, too," said Sebastian swiftly. "Sam, you stay out of this completely. Mr. Holt, here, is going proud on us. It'll be interesting to see if he's as good with a gun on me as he was on that poor little frightened squaw at Desolation Flat. All right, Holt! You start it! I've been waiting a long time for you to get up nerve enough to make the try. Go ahead."

As he spoke, Sebastian stripped open his coat, flung it back, so that the gun at his hip was ready to his hand. Now he waited, putting the weight of further decision on Provo Holt.

Violence, or the promise of it, was an integral part of any soldier's life. This Captain Judson Dillon knew and understood. But that violence when it came, to a degree was ordered violence, planned and maneuvered, and made legitimate under the title of war. Here was something else.

Captain Dillon realized that he was faced with a deadlock that could be broken only by someone making concession, and though making concession at any time—especially to a civilian—was gall and wormwood to him, he made it now. He stepped between Sebastian and Holt and spoke sharply.

"Enough of that! Whatever your private quarrel, you'll not go thru with it here. Mr. Sebastian, if you insist on traveling without escort, you'll be held completely responsible for every ounce of supplies in those packs. If you are prepared to accept that responsibility, you may pull out immediately."

Sebastian was hearing Captain Dillon's words, but he was watching Provo Holt with a narrow, bleak alertness, trigger-sharp for any hostile move Holt might make. He saw and measured the rioting rage in the man. But he saw something else, too, the thin shine that suddenly glistened on Holt's face when Captain Dillon inter-
